

Jeana Melilli, University of Florida

BIO:

Jeana Melilli is a PhD candidate in Musicology at the University of Florida. Her research focusses on late eighteenth-century trio sonata forms and women musicians in Naples and Sicily. She is the Principal Flute of the Savannah Philharmonic, Second Flute in the Coastal Symphony of Georgia, and Piccolo/Third Flute in the South Carolina Philharmonic and the Greenville Symphony. As a Baroque flutist, Jeana is a founding member of the Vista Ensemble in Columbia, SC, and Savannah Baroque. She is creating a Baroque ensemble at UF for Spring, 2023 and is the Woodwind Coordinator at Santa Fe College.